INSURGENTS ARE AGAIN IN LINE

Harmony Prevails Among the House Republicans.

MINNESOTANS DID NOT VOTE

Lindberg and Davis Merely Answered "Present" When Their Names Were Reached on the Roll Call When the House Voted on the Resolution Providing for Appointment of Its Members of the Ballinger-Pinchot Inquiry Committee.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Practically all the Republican insurgents came into the fold with the regulars when the house took up for action the resolution providing for the appointments of its representatives on the joint committee on inquiry into the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. Representatives Davis and Lindberg were the only Minnesota representatives who failed to vote. They merely answered "present" when their names were reached on the roll call.

On motion offered by Representative Clayton, Democrat from Alabama, to amend the resolution by substituting the name of Representative Rainey of Illinois for that of Representative Lloyd of Missouri, who with Representative James of Kentucky was designated by the Republicans in caucus to represent the Democrats on the committee, Representatives Davis and Lindberg joined their Republican colleagues on the delegation by voting in the negative.

This done, Representatives Davis and Lindberg stood out on the main proposition taking the stand that as they had disapproved the action of the party caucus in dictating the Democratic appointments they would have stilled themselves by voting for the resolution. Representative Gronna of North Dakota also became "regular" for the time being.

The Republican "whip," John Dwight of New York, whose duty it is to inform Republicans when they are in the house is necessary, restored the names of insurgents to his list of regulars. His action indicates that while the insurgents will not let up in their fight on Mr. Cannon they will hereafter vote with the majority on practically all questions of party policy.

SUIT WILL NOT BE DROPPED

Government Will Continue Fight on Alleged Railroad Merger.

Washington, Jan. 21.—It is authoritatively stated that the government suit for the dissolution of the merger of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads will not be dropped. Attorney General Wickersham, in his investigation of the representations from the other side, has found nothing so far to warrant such action.

A conference was held between the attorney general and Frank B. Kellogg on the one side and Judge Lovett, president of the Union Pacific, and counsel representing the allied Harman lines, on the other, for the presentation formally of reasons why the suit to dissolve the merger of the railroads should not be pressed. The railroad interests felt confident the suit cannot be pushed to a successful conclusion and are willing it should be compromised in some way.

Mr. Wickersham and Mr. Kellogg will prepare a memorandum for the president, on which the future action of the administration will depend.

Liveryman Fatally Injured.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 21.—John T. Hickey, liveryman of Sheldon, N. D., was probably fatally injured while attending the grain growers' convention here. He had just stepped from the Grand Family theater when he was jostled by the immense crowd into the cellarway of the new North Dakota Improvement company building. One arm and several ribs were broken, and, it is believed, his skull was fractured.

Fatally Hurt by a Horse.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Jan. 21.—Scott Montana, aged thirty-two, was brought here from Boyd, Wis., suffering from a fractured skull. He was hauling logs on bobs up a hill with a double team. Reaching the summit he stooped to pull the pin from the lever to release the teams from the sleigh when a horse kicked him on the head, knocking him unconscious. He is not expected to survive.

Engineer Fatally Injured.

Dubuque, Ia., Jan. 21.—A westbound Chicago Great Western passenger train ran into an open switch at Graf, near here, and crashed into a freight train on a siding. Engineer C. McManigal of Chicago jumped from the engine and was fatally hurt. The passengers were badly shaken up.

Porter House.

A bride called up her grocer the other day and asked him where the Porter House was. He said he had never heard of the place. She said she hadn't either, but she wished she could find it, because her husband wanted one of its steaks.

UNDER WHITE SLAVE LAW

Minnesota Man Sent to Prison for Three Years.

Duluth, Jan. 21.—Fred Hazen, convicted by a jury in the district court of living off the earnings of a woman engaged in immoral pursuits, was sentenced by Judge Hughes to three years in the state penitentiary, the maximum penalty provided by a new law governing the white slave traffic. Hazen is the first man in the state to be tried and sentenced under this enactment. He brought Esther Mack, a Bayfield (Wis.) farmer's daughter, to this city and lived with her in a local hotel, taking her earnings for his own support.

JONES TO MAKE CONFESSION

Asserted That Valet Will Clear Albert T. Patrick.

Galveston, Tex., Jan. 21.—Valet Jones, wanted in the famous Rice murder case, is said to have been located by a brother of Attorney Albert

ALBERT T. PATRICK.

Patrick, now in prison in Sing Sing, N. Y., and convicted of the crime. It is said that Jones has agreed to make a confession which will clear Patrick.

UNIONISTS MAKE SOME HEAVY GAINS

Country People of Britain Support Conservatives.

London, Jan. 21.—The status of the parties, according to the returns received up to date in the general elections, is as follows:

Unionists, 163; Liberals, 137; Laborites, 29; Nationalists, 53.

Gains—Unionists, 71; Liberals, 10; Laborites, 1.

Thirteen of the Unionists' gains in Wednesday's and Thursday's pollings were in county seats, one in Scotland, one in Wales. If the Unionists gain 22 of the 168 remaining seats the government will be dependent upon the votes of the Nationalists to legislate.

Elections were held Thursday for 47 seats—1 in London, 3 in English provincial boroughs, 26 in English counties, 8 in Scotland, 3 in Wales and 6 in Ireland. Reports from only twelve of these were received.

The old-fashioned English country people, with their rock-ribbed conservatism, their reverence for the nobility and their prejudices against the new-fashioned socialism, were heard from, and they gave a decided boost to the Conservative stock. The Unionists everywhere have taken cheer.

The Liberal government will return to power, but if the present tendency prevails among the remainder of the voters the next few days, its allies, the Laborites and Nationalists, will practically hold the balance of power and the Irish party particularly will be in a position to dictate legislation. The proposal to reform the house of lords counted strongly among the country people, perhaps more strongly than did tariff reform. Respect for the old institutions is more deeply rooted there than in the cities.

Exciting scenes followed the declaration of the poll at Buckingham, where the Liberal candidate, P. W. Verney, son of Lord Verney, won by a narrow margin. The enraged Unionists chased several prominent Liberals, who took refuge in the nearby houses. There was rioting at Belfast, where fifty-four persons were arrested on the charge of impersonation.

Veteran Will Go Free.

Duluth, Jan. 21.—Andrew R. Wheaton, alias Jack Quigley, of Cass Lake, a Civil war veteran, under indictment on a charge of defrauding the United States government by claiming a pension under the name of Wheaton when he was really Quigley, will go free a week from Wednesday as a result of a hearing before Judge Page Morris in the federal court.

Veteran Victim of Blood Poisoning.

Deadwood, S. D., Jan. 21.—Blood poisoning resulting from an attempt to cut a corn with a razor caused the death here of James W. King, a veteran prospector and one of the pioneers of 1876. King had been janitor at the federal building. He was seventy years old and a native of Ohio, being a Civil war veteran of that state.

TO ARBITRATE DIFFERENCES

Railroad Officials and Switchmen Finally Agree.

UNDER THE ERDMAN ACT

Contending Parties Willing to Submit the Matters in Dispute to Arbitration—Two Mediators Named and They Will Meet in Chicago Next Monday and Endeavor to Select the Third Member of the Board.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Arbitration is to be the solution of the controversy between the Chicago railways and their switchmen. This has been decided, the announcement being made by the mediators that both sides had agreed to refer to arbitration the questions at issue. The first meeting of the arbitrators will be held in Chicago on Jan. 24.

The conclusion was reached after a week of conferences between the mediators under the Erdman act, Chairman Knapp of the Interstate commerce commission and Dr. E. Neill, commissioner of labor, with representatives of the railways and Switchmen's union.

The parties to the differences practically were brought together in an agreement to refer the matters in dispute to arbitration, but supplementary conferences were held by the mediators with both the railway managers and the switchmen's representatives to consider final details.

Two Arbitrators Named.

It was determined that the matters yet in dispute should be referred to arbitrators and an agreement was signed naming S. E. Heberling, first vice president of the Switchmen's union of North America, as the arbitrator for the switchmen, and C. R. Gray, vice president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, for the railways. When the two arbitrators meet in Chicago next Monday they will endeavor to agree upon a third arbitrator.

If they should be unable to agree the selection will be referred, under the law, to the mediators, Chairman Knapp and Dr. Neill. They will name the third arbitrator at their convenience and within ten days after he is named the board of arbitration must meet and, by provision of the law, must return its findings within thirty days.

The effect of the findings of this board on the strike of the switchmen on the Northwestern railroads will be effective and immediate. Both the Northwestern switchmen and the Chicago switchmen who are interested in the arbitration determined upon are members of the same union. Eight of the Chicago railroads are involved in the present mediation proceedings. The other roads employ switchmen who are members of the Order of Railway Trainmen.

WOMAN FINANCIER ARRESTED

Accused of Obtaining a Loan on False Representation.

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 21.—Miss Mary Harrah, secretary and treasurer of the International Land company, with head offices in Kansas City and branch offices in Davenport and other cities, is under arrest here on the charge of obtaining $2,000 from Mrs. Flora Evans as a loan on false representation.

For years Miss Harrah has been known over the West as a queen of financiers. She is the daughter of George Harrah, a wealthy stockman of Newton, Ia., and during the past ten years has been the principal promoter in many large enterprises involving millions of dollars.

A strikingly handsome woman, she had but little difficulty in interesting men of wealth and, while at one time Miss Harrah was considered a wealthy woman, it is known she and her backers have lost heavily. One of them, James Quinn of this city, died recently, after dropping $50,000 through his faith in Miss Harrah.

Miss Harrah, in defense, claims the loan was secured by her company and not by her as an individual.

Mrs. Evans charges it was secured on property in Texas, for which neither Miss Harrah nor the company had a valid deed. Miss Harrah further claims she was in Davenport to settle with Mrs. Evans at the time of her arrest.

Trunk Mystery Solved.

Seattle, Jan. 21.—Experts unraveled the Magnolia trunk mystery. As soon as they saw the covering of bark over the trunk, and the manner in which the body had been placed in it, they said the skeleton was that of a northern Indian girl who had been buried according to the custom of Alaska and Queen Charlotte Indians.

Train Jumps the Track.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 21.—A passenger train on the Milwaukee railway jumped the track near Wild Rice, ten miles south of this city. Several persons were slightly injured, but none seriously. Two hundred passengers were crowded into three box cars and brought into Fargo.

TO ATTEND TO HIS BUSINESS

Walsh May Be Given Special Privileges in Prison.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 21.—After an easy day spent mostly in reading books and magazines and learning prison rules, John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker who is serving a five-year sentence for misappropriating the funds of the Chicago National bank, retired early. He fell asleep immediately. Although in excellent spirits, he admitted that the trip to the prison had left him slightly fatigued.

The former banker will probably be assigned to a task in the prison library next Monday. Until that time he will be dieted and kept under the watchful eye of Dr. A. F. Yohe, in order that his exact physical condition may be determined.

Although Mr. Walsh attempted to close his business affairs, little details are bound to arise that will require his attention. On account of this Warden R. W. McLaughlin has decided to grant him a special dispensation whereby he can write more letters than the prison regulations ordinarily permit. The order will have to be approved by the department of justice, but if the warden recommends it, the action of the department will be merely perfunctory.

JEWELER FATALLY WOUNDED

Man Who Shot Him Ends His Life With Acid.

New York, Jan. 21.—Frederick Boettcher, a Brooklyn jeweler, was sandbagged and fatally shot in his store by an unidentified man, who ended his life by taking a capsule of carbolic acid before he could be locked up. Boettcher identified his assailant as a man who came to his store not long ago and looked at some diamond rings. When the jeweler started to come from behind a counter the stranger struck him a crushing blow on the head, and as Boettcher reeled the man shot him behind the ear.

The shot brought out Mrs. Boettcher, and the man fled. Hard pressed by the police, who had been attracted by Mrs. Boettcher's screams, the would-be robber was seen to raise his hand to his lips and swallow hastily. He was arrested and taken back to the store, where Boettcher identified him. The prisoner died in the police station from the poison he had taken.

TRIPLE MURDER IN NEW YORK CITY

Robbery the Motive or It Is a Black Hand Case.

New York, Jan. 21.—A triple murder was revealed in an obscure flat in the heart of New York's East Side. Robbery was the motive or else it is another case of the Black Hand.

Salvatore Scalpone, a young Italian barber, his wife, and a middle-aged woman, believed to have been Mrs. Scalpone's mother, are the victims.

Policemen entered the flat, which was locked, by way of a fire escape. Scalpone's body was found tied to the door, the face battered beyond recognition and lying in a great smear of blood. Near his master stood a whining bulldog covered with blood. The animal had paced aimlessly from body to body, sniffing one and then the other, staining the floors crimson with his footsteps.

In the next room were the bodies of the women gagged as was the man by handkerchiefs similarly knotted and the heads battered.

Drawers had been dumped out, cupboards ransacked, mattresses ripped open and every conceivable hiding place for money or valuable pried open. In a little hallway was found a basin filled with bloody water, a blood-stained vest and a pair of overalls, also blood-stained. The water had apparently been crimsoned when the slayer washed his wet hands before he made his escape by the fire escape.

The police are convinced that more than one person took part in the murder, for, with the bulldog on guard and three persons to cope with, one man would have been powerless. Also, examination showed that Scalpone's body had been dragged from the dining room to the kitchen, where it was tied.

There is no direct clue to the murderers.

PUBLIC OPINION IS BITTER

Iowa People Incensed Over High Price of Food.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 21.—Bitter public opinion against the prevailing high prices of foodstuffs has induced County Attorney Guthrie to bring the matter before the grand jury, with a view of securing indictments against alleged combines to boost prices.

It is known that a former groceryman was before the jury who furnished evidence to show that an agreement exists. He declared that while he was in the grocery business certain parties dictated to him the prices he should charge for certain commodities, with the threat that if he did not sell as dictated competition would be instituted against him such as would compel him to quit business.

Despondent Man a Suicide.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 21.—Despondent, Swan Carlson, single, thirty years old, committed suicide at Ne-gamuee by shooting.

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS ENDS

AVIATION MEET IS ENDED

Exciting Race Between Curtiss and Paulhan on Closing Day.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 21.—As dusk gathered four flying machines that had been circling in the air sailed to earth, the great crowd left the field and the first international aviation meet held in America was over.

Few knew that one man had been near death in those last few minutes. While Charles K. Hamilton was returning from a fifteen-mile flight the crank shaft of his machine snapped. Hamilton shut off his engine and so leveled and swayed his planes that he was wafted gently down.

Curtiss and Paulhan furnished the excitement of the closing day. Paulhan went up for an endurance flight and after he had gone two or three laps of the course Curtiss started up. Instantly it was seen that a great race was on. The two aeroplanes came over the grand stand with the speed of express trains. Curtiss crept swiftly on Paulhan's heels and on the third lap after starting he reached Paulhan flying above. The Frenchman for a few seconds held his own, but Curtiss forged ahead and it was no race after that. Paulhan went on until he had traveled 64.7 miles and had been in the air nearly an hour and a half. Curtiss came down after a thirty-mile trip.

This race gives the whole story of the meet. The Curtiss machines have won all the prizes for speed, quick starts, perfect landings and those events where a swift machine showed best. Paulhan, on the other hand, has won all the cross country, passenger carrying and endurance. Paulhan has taken more than $15,000 in prizes. Curtiss has broken no world's records and evidently will take less than $5,000 in prizes.

Meat Boycott Condemned.

Toledo, O., Jan. 21.—With the declaration in debate that the movement is an "insidious attempt to reduce the wages of workmen by lowering the standard of living," the Toledo Central Labor union adopted a resolution severely condemning the meat boycott started in Cleveland.

The Scented Court.

The rage for perfumes reached its height during the reign of Louis XV. Throughout the continent his court was known as the "scented court." It was then the custom when giving a large entertainment for the hostess to inform her guests what particular odor she would use for perfuming her rooms, and each guest would use that odor in making her toilet. At court a different perfume was used for each day of the week. Much more attention was paid to the use of the perfume than to soap and water, and cleanliness was not numbered among the virtues of that age.

How She Escaped.

Pauline, who had been attending school for almost two weeks, was telling of the misbehavior of some of her little classmates. At her mother's question as to whether it had ever been necessary for the teacher to speak to her Pauline answered quickly, "Oh, no, mamma." Then, "She had to speak to all the class but me this afternoon." "Why, what did she say?" "Oh, she said, 'Now, children, we'll all wait until Pauline is in order.'"—De-lineator.

OUTSIDE SCOPE OF MEETING

Committee Reports That Recommendations Submitted by the Minnesota Executive Come Within the Province of the President of the United States—Next Conference Will Be Held at One of the State Capitals.

Washington, Jan. 21.—After perfecting concrete plans for future co-operation of the conference of governors, the governors returned to their respective states on a date between Thanksgiving and Christmas of the current year, the exact time and place to be determined by a committee which was appointed.

The final sessions of the conference were marked by a divergence of views among the governors as to the wisdom of the state executives as a body passing resolutions for or against any given proposition. Several governors maintained that the greatest good would be accomplished by a courageous and definite stand upon great public questions. Eventually all resolutions calling for a formal expression of opinion by the governors as a body were left in abeyance.

A subcommittee of the League of Self Supporting Women of New York recommended that the political status of women in the separate states be made one of the topics for a full discussion at the next meeting of governors.

The committee appointed to consider the resolutions introduced by Governor Eberhart of Minnesota relative to recommendation to congress in regard to the jurisdiction of federal and state courts reported that such recommendations came within the province of the president of the United States and were not within the scope of the conference. No action was taken upon the report of the committee.

Committee Unable to Report.

Governor Shafroth of Colorado introduced a resolution stating that it was the sense of the conference that the control and regulation of water powers should rest in the state. This was referred to a committee, which was unable to report, and the matter will probably be taken up at the next conference.

Governor Davidson told the conference of Wisconsin's efforts to conserve its natural resources.

Former Senator Dryden of New Jersey read a resolution adopted by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, requesting the conference to give its attention to uniformity in state insurance laws.

Governor Carroll of Iowa read a paper on "Divorce." He thought some points in regard to divorce laws could be made uniform, such as length of residence necessary to obtain a divorce, length of time before remarriage and the causes for divorce. As corrective measures he recommended education and better marriage laws.

Governor Shallenberger of Nebraska thought the conference should give expression to its views by means of resolutions. This provoked a lengthy discussion.

Governor Davidson of Wisconsin occupied the chair in the closing session.

ANOTHER FIRM IS CAUGHT

Roberts, Hall & Criss of New York Forced to Suspend.

New York, Jan. 21.—Roberts, Hall & Criss of New York and Cincinnati were forced to suspend as members of the New York Stock Exchange following the two failures brought about by the collapse of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron pool.

Hugh F. Criss was the board member of the firm and had charge of the Hocking pool on the exchange. He estimates the liabilities of the firm at $3,000,000, but is quoted as saying that he hoped to pay "100 cents on the dollar unless the governors of the exchange permit winking on the part of other members with whom I had contracts."

The feeling among members of the exchange is that Criss has been made to bear more than his share of the blame and that all the participants ought to be punished for their part in the episode.

More Join Meat Boycott.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 21.—The ranks of the army of abstainers from meat eating were recruited by the action of 800 Omaha workmen, who pledged themselves to a vegetable diet. The matter was laid before the Central Labor union and it is expected that several thousand workmen will join the army of non-meat eaters.

Lost Opportunity.

"And you didn't hear of it?" inquired Mrs. Gabbie.
"Not one word."
"Why, I've known it for a week, so I supposed everybody heard of it."

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Saturday. Warmer Saturday and northwest portion tonight.

Bryan in 1912—not if the democrats can help it.

John Lind does not want to be governor, so it will not be necessary to find whether he is eligible or not.
The democrats are more apt to nominate Hammond than they are Lind, and they are not liable to elect either one.

An 18-year old youth at Minneapolis is under arrest charged with having stolen fifteen automobiles
during the early fall and winter.
This thrifty young man said he did it just for fun, but the owners of the machines couldn't see the joke.

The talk that the mayor of St. Paul was to resign has been hushed by Mayor Lawler himself who says he will only not resign but will be a candidate for reelection. That's the kind of talk one expects from a democratic office holder, few die and none resign.

The Cass Lake Times opens a stock subscription with one thousand dollars for the purpose of establishing a turpentine plant in that village. The Times is one of the prosperous newspapers in the northern part of the state and is willing to go the limit on the turpentine proposition.

An eastern exchange suggests that Roosevelt be elected to congress and made speaker of the house, on his return from Africa—and that would solve the problem of what to do with one of our ex-presidents. There wouldn't be any question as to who was speaker if that should happen and the big stick might make some of them sorry that the suggestion was made.

Eberhart is on the defensive and he denies from Washington that Joel Heatwole knows what he is talking about when he says that he, Eberhart, is not a republican, that he is a tool of the steel trust, and that he did not support the republican candidates for governor in the last two campaigns. The governor promises to show Joel where to head in at when he gets time to fix the matter up for public reading.

An Omaha young woman has sued
her family physician for removing her appendix when she wasn't looking,
and asks that he hand over $25,000.
She was to be operated on for varicose veins and when she came from under the influence of the anesthetic she found herself appendixless. This is the first instance that we know of where the value of the appendix has been fixed, although we know of many instances where goodly sums have been paid to get rid of them.

A novel strike has been inaugurated at Cleveland, Ohio, where ten thousand workmen have struck against the high price of living and have signed a pledge to abstain from eating meat for 60 days, which means that more than 50,000 persons will not eat meat in that city during the next two months and the effect on the sale of that commodity if the agreement is strictly lived up to is not problematical. In Chicago and Omaha the same conditions exist as to prices and the Federation of Labor is considering putting the lid on meat in those two cities.

The Hutchinson Leader, edited and owned by Carlos Avery who has just retired as the democratic executive agent of the state game and fish commission, probably voices democratic sentiment when it says "there is probably one man who, beyond all shadow of doubt, can, if he'll say the word, be the next governor of Minnesota, and that man is John Lind.
It makes no difference who runs against him, he will be elected." John Lind, however, has said that he would not say the word, and still democracy dreams on, hoping he will change his mind and lead them to victory—and the offices in the gift of the governor of the state. Six years at the crib makes them loth to let loose.

The state fair association has gone
on record as favoring the cutting off of many of the passes issued, confining them to newspaper men, exhibitors and employees, and President Underwood favors cutting out all passes and paying the newspapers in cash "the amount usually received in tickets." The time has gone by in Minnesota when the newspapers should be considered the subject of charity when it comes to passes of any description and if cash was paid newspapers for their work in advertising institutions of this kind instead of depending on free admissions to cover the effort both the newspapers and those depending on them for this kind of support would be better off. Railroad transportation that was denied the newspaper men when the anti-pass law went into effect has been the best thing that has happened them. When advertising is now done for the roads it is on a cash basis and when a newspaper man travels he pays two cents
a mile for the privilege and both parties are better satisfied—and the newspaper man saves money by the transaction. Cut out the passes and pay cash and the newspaper men will be satisfied.

The attention of every resident of Brainerd is especially called to the warning of the president of the board of health in regard to boiling the drinking water. There are at the present time about twenty cases of typhoid fever in the city, most of which have developed within the last week. Typhoid fever is one of the preventable diseases and immediate steps should be taken to see that it does not become epidemic. The germ is always introduced into the system through the mouth, most generally by water, though it may also be found in milk and ice, and even food where care and cleanliness are not exercised. As the cases now known are not confined to any part of the city and all of them have used more or less of the city water, it is thought quite possible that this may contain typhoid germs, and until it is tested and found to be free from such germs
it should not be used without boiling.

For the next three days, commencing today, we will sell any copy of sheet music in stock for 10 cents a copy, and music rolls at cost. This is for three days only.

RELIEVES IN FIVE MINUTES

A Little Diapiesin Now Will Make

You Feel Fine and End Stomach

Trouble Forever

There would not be a case of indigestion here if the readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapiesin.
This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourst, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous
odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you
the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of gas and eructations of undigested food, water brash, nausea, headache, biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your stomach is sour or full of gas or your food don't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from stomach trouble and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and,
besides, one case is sufficient to cure
a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapiesin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

DISTRICT COURT HAS ADJOURNED

Judge McClenahan Closed One of Longest Terms of Court Ever Held in County

THREE MURDER CASES TRIED

One Resulted in Acquittal and Convictions Were Secured in Other Cases

Judge McClenahan adjourned court Thursday afternoon, for the term. The December term, which commenced on Tuesday, December 7, has been one of the most important, longest and most expensive in the history of Crow Wing county. It was noted both for the important criminal and civil cases tried. No less than three murder cases were tried. The most important, that of Paul Fournier, known as the Dahl murder case, brought from Beltrami county on change of venue. This case resulted in acquittal. In the other two cases convictions were secured. Gotfried Peterson drawing eighteen months for killing James Gallagher, and John Keg getting twelve years for killing Same Pete. In addition to this David E. Robbins was sentenced to four years on a plea of guilty of carnal knowledge. Charles Olson took a term at St. Cloud for assault, and several other cases were awarded fines for misdemeanors.

There were also many important civil cases, that of the Itasca Cedar & Tie Co. vs. McKinley being the longest to try, taking nearly a week. The costs of the Fournier trial were borne by Beltrami county, but even counting this out it will be one of the most expensive terms of court in the history of Crow Wing county.

Judge McClenahan will not be in court again until February 22, but in the mean time will have a number of cases to hear in chambers, besides considering the cases taken under advisement at the recent term of court.

Jan. 29—"The Man of the Hour."

"Polly of the Circus"

Even the hundred or so people who were forced to stand at the Fargo opera house last night were pleased with the presentation of Polly of the Circus. It is a sweet little comedy drama and delighted the audience. Ida St. Leon is a charming little Polly. She is young, pretty and talented—and what more can anyone want? The supporting company was very satisfactory, especially Mart E. Helsey as Jim, the canvasman.

The dog and pony performances and the equestrienne work on the stage was realistic to a high degree. The last scene in the last act is a beautiful thing, showing the parson and Polly on the deserted circus grounds in the night, with the circus wagons disappearing in the background and the light shining full on the church and the parsonage.

From the Fargo Daily Forum, of Wednesday, Jan. 19th. At Brainerd opera house Monday night, Jan. 24.

All to See the Widow

To judge from the crowds at H. P. Dunn's drug store this forenoon everybody in Brainerd is intending to go to see the "Merry Widow" at the opera house Saturday night. There were 66 tickets given out up to the time the board opened and as each ticket permitted the selection of six tickets, it will be seen that the house was pretty well sold. However there are a number of seats left from which this excellent production can be satisfactorily seen.

Musical Recital Tonight

Lovers of music should not forget the recital to be given at Elks' hall tonight by Mrs. Wilma Anderson Gilman, pianist, and Miss Augustine, violinist. This entertainment is under the auspices of the Musical club, which is sufficient guarantee of the high character of entertainment, even were the performers so well known as artists of repute.

"The Man of the Hour"

"The Man of the Hour" which comes to the opera house January 29, has distanced every other offering, musical or dramatic, that started upon equal terms with it three years ago. Most stage productions of 1906 are accumulation dust in storage warehouses even if they didn't raise it on the road. It is still the most talked of play in this country. Perhaps not another American play has received the approbation of so many distinguished men in public life as "The Man of the Hour." The special cast which will appear here is made up of Arthur Maitland, Felix Haney, John Moore, Paul Byron, T. S. Guise, William Cullington, M. J. MacQuarrie, William Lloyd, F. F. Warner, Geo. A. Cameron, H. J. Hewitt, Edward Dewey, Madeline Winthrop, Anna Reader and Florence Mack.

Notice to W. R. C.

All members of the W. R. C. are requested to meet at Mrs. Theviot's store Saturday evening, January 22, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. S. Joyce, Claremont, N. H., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy. It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years standing. It certainly is a grand good medicine, and I heartily recommend it."

The Duluth Diamond Drilling Co., has just added two more drills to the number it has working in the vicinity of Brainerd. Both were shipped in from the east Friday and one was taken to Section 6, town of Long Lake, where they already have drills working, and the other was taken to the town of Crow Wing, section 22 or 23, according to the driver, who stated that he did not know on whose land it was to be placed. Rumor has it that it goes onto properties controlled by the Brainerd Mining Company.

PINE RIVER TELEPHONE

The Rural Telephone Co. Have Decided to Build Two New Lines the Coming Summer

Pine River, Minn., Jan. 20.—The stockholders of the Pine River Rural Telephone company have decided to build two new lines next summer, with a third line under consideration. A new line will be constructed from this village to the Poplar-Hazel Dell country, a distance of about thirty miles. Another line will be built from Emily to Little Pine, about twenty miles. The third line is also under consideration, if built, will connect Swanburg to Longville, thence to Remer on the branch of the Soo. Work will commence just as soon as the weather will permit. Last year the company in its initial effort besides constructing the local exchange, built forty miles of country line connecting Swanburg, Emily and Outing with the local exchange. The two new lines to be built will comprise about fifty-five miles of new wire, and if the third line is built the new lines will aggregate over 100 miles.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: W. A. Curo, president; H. H. Hill, vice president; Charles W. La Du, secretary; and James E. Geary, treasurer. The four officers mentioned with F. L. Hill were elected as directors.

After exposure, and when you feel a cold coming on, take Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. It stops the cough, relieves the congestion, and expels the cold from your system. Is mildly laxative.

AMERICA'S CHIEF FORESTER.

Training in Forestry of Henry S. Graves, Pinchot's Successor.

Henry S. Graves, who has been selected by President Taft and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to succeed Gifford Pinchot as chief of the forest service of the United States, was for two years assistant chief of the old division of forestry under Mr. Pinchot, and he has been director of the Yale forestry school since 1900. He was graduated from that university in 1892 and was trained in forestry in the United States and by European study. He was connected with the reconnaissance forest survey of the Black Hills in 1897.

The new forester was born in Marietta, O., and brought up in Andover, Mass., where his father was for many years a member of the faculty of Phillips academy. He prepared for college at this academy and entered Yale with the class of '92. In college he played quarterback with the varsity football team and gained high rank in scholarship. He was led to take up the study of forestry by Mr. Pinchot. After a course of graduate study at Harvard he joined Mr. Pinchot at Biltmore, N. C., where on the estate of George W. Vanderbilt the first application of scientific forestry to American conditions was being made. After his work at Biltmore Mr. Graves went abroad for technical training in European professional schools of forestry, since no technical instruction in forestry was then obtainable in the United States. No other American except Mr. Pinchot had anticipated him in this step. Indeed, he was the second American to enter the profession.

Mr. Graves' foreign studies were carried on under the most eminent of the old world foresters, Sir Dietrich Brandis, principally at Munich. On his return to the United States he was associated with Mr. Pinchot in his office as consulting forester in New York city. When Mr. Pinchot became forester of the department of agriculture in July, 1898, Mr. Graves became his first assistant. He carried on forest explorations and investigations in the west.

He left the forest service in 1900 to become the head of the Yale forestry school. In the intervals of his work at Yale he made a number of trips in the national forests of the west, sometimes as adviser of the government and sometimes for private study of forestry problems.

Aeroplane Horn at an Auto Show.
Something really novel made its appearance at the national automobile show at Madison Square Garden in New York the other day. It is an aeroplane horn pitched to several different keys and with a screech that can be heard a long distance. It is similar to an electric auto horn and may be attached to the bottom of the plane and operated by means of a bell driven from a gear in the side of the horn to the flywheel of the motor.

Hexamethylenetetramine
The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities and avoid serious malady.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

"In what is your love better than any other man's? Behind it is not a record of hard work, of self sacrifice, of achievement—of any of the things that go toward making love strong and enduring and beautiful—to make it a support that a woman can lean on for life? What have you to offer me or any other woman?"

There was a silence. Yet when Bennett spoke there was a new note in his voice—a ring of awakening strength that impressed Dallas in spite of herself—that sent a wholly strange thrill through her and set her heart to beating with unwonted quickness.

"You are right," said he. "I have done nothing. I've been content to be a rich man's son, and I've nothing to offer that is worthy your acceptance, but that does not mean I never shall have. And by the grace of God I shall! You've put things in a new light. I see them as I never did. It isn't a wholly pleasant experience, but it's good for me. There's nothing yet that I'm fitted to do, but I'll find something, never fear. And when I do—"

"Don't say there's nothing you're fit for," protested Dallas. "There's nothing you couldn't accomplish if once you set yourself to it. Why, just think of those speeches you made for Mr. Lorimer last campaign. They were fine. I was so—"

"Oh, those amounted to nothing. I just did it to oblige him. And, besides, it was fun to sway the crowds." "That's just it. You did it for fun and for a friend. Why not do some thing in earnest and for yourself? The world is fairly bristling with opportunities for such a man as you. Grasp those opportunities. Won't you?"

"Yes. And when I do—is there any hope that you will?"

"I have given Mr. Gibbs no promise. I told him to wait."

"Then my chance is as good as his. From now on I am going to drop the role of rich man's son and be something on my own account. If you have faith in me—if you believe in me—if there is a ghost of a chance that you can some day love me?"

"I have faith in you, Alwyn," she answered softly, letting her hand lie passive in his grasp. Then, withdrawing it with a pretty gesture of petulance, she added:

"Only I wish it didn't always require a blow to rouse you to action. Did you ever happen to notice that trait in yourself?"

"Why, no. I don't quite understand."

"Then here's an instance that will show you what I mean: In your senior year at Yale when you were playing halfback on the varsity eleven I saw my first football game. It was against Princeton. You were the only man on either team I knew, so I watched you

"You were the college hero—the man of the hour."

from first to last. Little as I understood football, I could see you were playing a clever, hard, conscientious game. But it wasn't a fighting game—not the sort of game that carries everything before it. Then, in the second half, in one of the scrimmages I saw a Princeton man strike you. Oh, it was a dastardly, cowardly blow! Hestruick you when your head was turned away. You saw who it was, and you made no appeal to the referee, but in the next scrimmage you broke that man's collar bone and stunned him. He was carried senseless from the field, and you kept on. You had begun to play a fighting game, and it carried you through the Princeton line for the only touchdown of the day. You won the game for Yale. You were the college hero—the man of the hour. But it took a blow to rouse you. Now do you understand?"

"Yes, I think I do. Perhaps you're right. I certainly remember the blow well enough. Do you happen to know who it was that struck me that day on the football field?"

"No. I knew none of the players except you. Who?"

"It was Gibbs."

"No!"

"I'm not likely to have forgotten. Ask him yourself. He will remember it. I fancy. It was a week before he left the infirmary."

"But I can't realize that Mr. Gibbs would do such a thing! It was so cowardly, so!"

"Oh, don't hold it against him. He was excited and—"

"Tell Mr. Phelan I'll see him in the library," called Wainwright from the hall.

"More politics!" exclaimed Dallas. "Come, shall we go out to the tennis court?"

They passed through the open French window as Wainwright and Gibbs entered the library from the opposite door.

"The alderman's a little behind time," said Wainwright. "He's a character in his way. You'll be interested in meeting him, Gibbs."

"Mr. Phelan," announced the butler. "I know my own name, son," remarked a voice behind him. "You needn't go hollerin' it at me like I was bein' rattled at an east side meeting. Mornin', Mr. Wainwright. Maybe it was you he was hollerin' at."

"You're a little late, alderman," said the financier.

"I always am. Let the other feller do the waitin'. That's my motto, and many a good hour's time I've saved by it. Who's your friend?"

"Mr. Gibbs of Gibbs & Norton. Mr. Gibbs, this is Alderman Phelan."

"Of the Eighth," amended Phelan. "Only man to carry his ward last election runnin' independent. Pleased to meet you. Yes, sir, I run independent, and I win, as Wainwright here can tell you. Hestruick's out against me this year, and he's got carried away by some fool idea that he can down me next campaign."

"Can he?" asked Gibbs politely, bored.

FOR THE THIN AND SCRAWNEY

Samose Will Make You Plump and Rosey, Says H. P. Dunn

If you are getting thin, you are sick, although you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin.

The only way to increase the weight and gain health and flesh is by using Samose, the standard flesh-forming food and tissue builder. It mingles with the food you eat and is assimilated so that all the flesh forming and tissue building elements of the food are retained in the system. This explains the great value of Samose.

Weigh yourself before you begin using Samose. It will not cost you a cent unless it increases your weight and restores your health.

H. P. Dunn sells every package on a genuine guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

PLUCKING LIVE GEESSE

An Operation Necessary to Procure Good Feathers.

LOCKING THE BIRDS' WINGS.

This Trick Performed and Their Legs Bandaged Together, the Helpless Geese Are Ready, if Not Willing, Victims For the Expert Pickers.

"Yes," said a manufacturer and dealer in bed furnishings, "it is necessary that goose feathers should be taken from the live goose if we are to study the health and comfort of people who think they must have feather beds and pillows. Dead goose feathers are not much better than husks to lie on and have not that great virtue of husk-wholesomeness.

"They say it doesn't hurt a goose to pluck it, but it seems to me that one might as well say that it wouldn't hurt a man to have his whiskers yanked out by the handful. The reason they give for believing a goose doesn't suffer when its feathers are being plucked out of it is that it never squawks or squeaks or makes a fuss while the plucking is going on.

"Now, I believe it hurts a goose like the mischief to have its feathers pulled out, coming as they do from the tenderest spots on its body, and the reason the fowl doesn't utter any protest prompted by pain is, according to the way I have sized geese up, because it is such a blame fool. A goose will squawk and clatter and cackle as if it were suffering more agony than a horse with the colic just at the mere sight of you, but if you corner it up and pelt it with stones it seems to forget that it has a voice and will take all the punishment you give it without a further word.

"The Pennsylvania Dutch farmers pluck geese today just the same as their forebears did time out of mind, and I don't know as there is any other way. It certainly couldn't be made any pleasanter for the goose unless the plucker held chloroform or something like that to its nose while the plucking was going on. The geese to be bereft of their feathers are first set together in an inclosure used for the purpose. The inclosure used for geese may be strikingly made known to you when they are being rounded up in such an inclosure if there should happen to be a knothole in one end of it, the door being at the other. That door may be six feet high and three broad, but geese after geese will go in and try its best to get through the knothole. Indeed, though, to try the door, every goose will bob its head down as it passes through for fear of knocking it against the top of the door jamb, six feet above.

"There is a man or a boy in every neighborhood where geese are plucked who is an expert in getting the geese ready for the process. Not every one can do that. The wings of the geese have to be locked together by a peculiar arrangement of the two near the shoulder, and, while they are not tied or fastened in any other way, the lock is such that no goose can unlock it. The geese's feet are tied together with a broad band of soft muslin. Then it is ready for the plucker.

"The pluckers, who are almost always women, go among the geese with their heads and faces entirely covered with hoods fastened around the neck with a shirr string. There are holes in the hoods for the eyes and also at the nose to supply fresh air for breathing. From the neck down the pluckers are covered with a glazed muslin garment to which no feather or down will cling. The pluckers will sit on low stools around a large and perfectly dry tub. Each takes in her lap a goose made helpless by its interlocked wings and bound legs and with rapid plying of her fingers separates the feathers from it. This is done with such skill, though, that the plucker rarely breaks the goose's skin or causes blood to follow the plucking out of a feather. The air is constantly filled with the light feathers during the plucking, but they settle into the tub at last.

"But there isn't as much call for the goose to undergo this rapping of its feathers as there used to be. Not one pound of goose feathers is used today where there were fifty pounds twenty-five years ago. Odd as it may seem, asthma and hay fever long ago began to have a good deal to do with decreasing the demand for feather beds and pillows. It was discovered that asthma and hay fever had an affinity for such couches and head rests; that nothing would start an asthmatic off for a cheerful night's wheezing so quickly as a feather bed. This discovery spread, and the goose owes a great deal of its later day comfort to the asthma."—Detroit Free Press.

LAKE OF SOLID SODA.

Twenty Square Miles of the Mineral Found in Africa.

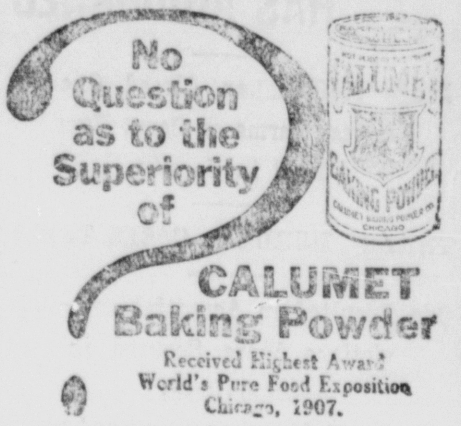

Fred Shelford, an engineer of the projected African railroad from Uganda to Lake Magadi, tells of a wonderful soda lake which he discovered after a most difficult journey over a waterless country. Shelford says: "Lake Magadi is picturesquely situated between vast mountains. There were no signs of human life. We found the water a few inches deep, covering a hard surface looking like hard marble. This is an immense deposit of soda, which when bored was found to extend to a considerable depth, indicating an area of at least twenty square miles of solid soda."

PHEASANT EXPEDITION.

Colonel Anthony Kuser Gives $60,000 For Worldwide Study.

The New York Zoological society has sent out an expedition to investigate the habits of pheasants in all parts of the world. Colonel Anthony R. Kuser has donated $60,000 to cover the expenses of the expedition and the publication of a monograph on the birds subsequently.

C. William Beebe, curator of birds of the society, is at the head of the expedition. A photographer goes with him. They will tour England, China, Japan, India, Borneo and other countries where pheasants are known or believed to exist.
